Red Raider has recently found a great treasure. He decides to spend some of his new fortune on a better ship. He assembles a great team of builders to make his ship perfect. He has a cabin for his office and sleeping quarters for his crew. On the top of the ship, he wants to make a tower for his crew to climb with a crow's nest on top so he can survey for land with his telescope. He has asked you to design a tower for him with the limited resources he has left, plus as much tape as you want to use. The tower must hold the crows nest cup.
